

Fork-CAM

Fork-CAM is the industrial Closed Circuit TV System that has been designed from the outset for use in heavy industry applications.

The large 7" high resolution screen provides a precise image transmitted from the Fork-CAM cameras, that are available in either Black/White or Color.

The camera's are encased in a solid aluminum housing to withstand high levels of impact and fitted with an optical standard plastic lens to provide additional protection to the internal camera. This special design makes it safe to use in various manufacturing applications as there is no glass easily accessible in the event of damage.

The specially designed cables are supplied in pre-set lengths to suit various applications and with a range of accessories, Fork-CAM can be set up to suit your every requirement.

Fork-CAM is designed to be easy installed, easy to maintain, and most of all meet the requirements of industry.
